

Individual Annual Membership Agreement

The Invasive Species Council of Metro Vancouver is a non-profit society that is working to improve the management of invasive species in the Metro Vancouver region.

The purposes of the society are:

- To protect the environment by conserving and restoring ecosystems and biodiversity by monitoring, detecting, and managing invasive species.
- To protect the environment by conserving and restoring ecosystems and biodiversity through the provision of technical training on invasive species management to individuals and organizations that deal with or encounter invasive species.
- To advance education in the Metro Vancouver region by providing conferences, workshops, and other educational events on topics related to invasive species management.
- To do all such things as are ancillary and incidental to the attainment of the above charitable purposes.

Individuals may become members at an Annual General Meeting, or by completing this annual membership agreement (the membership year ends on March 31st each year). Signatories to this agreement agree to support the purposes of the society in the context of their daily role as Metro Vancouver resident, volunteer, practitioner, and/or land manager.
